Fast online procedure for service requests.

Your service requests – simpler and faster than ever

Now it's easier than ever to place service requests, including for calibration, upgrade or repair. The new Rohde & Schwarz online tool lets you place and manage service requests with ease. At my.rohde-schwarz.com/service you can see at a glance all your pending service requests and their status, as well as completed requests.

Benefits of the new digital service request:

- Simple and easy administration
- Upfront information on performance, pricing and turnaround times
- Print-ready shipping label and service reference number for easy shipping
- Your instrument is registered before it arrives at Rohde & Schwarz
- Convenient administration of pending and past service requests

R&S®Online Service Management makes everything easier

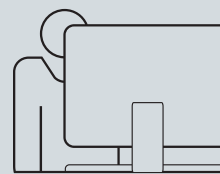

Placing service requests isn't the only thing that's easier – use R&S®Online Service Management to simplify other tasks, including management of your equipment and all contracts. It saves you time and many formalities.
